

The services that XM offers for traffic alerts is an amazing service. The traffic alerts alone help me maneuver around Orlando with no problems and points me away from the problems.

As a consumer, I choose to pay for this service and the government has no right to delegate the services I pay for that I should or should not receive.